

Our Mission

The Capitol Hill Art League (CHAL) promotes the visual arts in the Capitol Hill community by providing artists with opportunities to network, exhibit and sell their art work, and be a part of an active community of visual artists.

The Capitol Hill Art League (CHAL) is a visual arts program with members drawn from our neighborhood, our city and our region.

As part of the Capitol Hill Arts Workshop, CHAL promotes the visual arts in the Capitol Hill community and beyond.

What We Do

Our primary activity is to produce several juried exhibits, and one non-juried holiday art sale, during the months of October through May, where members can show and sell their work.

In addition, we support artistic growth:

- Bring members and the community together at each exhibit month for opening receptions — where artists can meet each other and hear the juror speak about the exhibit;
- Promote growth and appreciation of the arts in the community at large;
- Provide a quarterly digital newsletter;
- Promote CHAL via Facebook and other online social networking media;
- Arrange and encourage exhibits by members in DC-area venues like public spaces, local hotels, wineries, condo buildings, and street festivals;
- Inform our members of opportunities for exhibiting work in exhibitions outside of CHAL-sponsored exhibits;
- Participate in public art projects; and
- Offer business-of-art workshops and other services, such as photographing member artists' work.

Jurors, artists and the public come together at opening receptions.

Membership Benefits

- Exhibition opportunities in several Capitol Hill gallery spaces;
- Feedback from professional artists and art teachers on your work;
- Sales opportunities;
- Special tours of DC museum exhibitions;
- Discount on services like professional photographs of artwork; and
- Networking with other Hill artists.

How to Become a Member
